Song of Songs: “I am black - and beautiful” (1:5)

3 The Song of Songs is the only book in the Bible whose principal theme is erotic love¹ Notably, in the erotic poems that constitute the book, the lovers make love outside the confines of matrimony, in friendship,² as an expression of mutual pleasure, and without any intention to procreate³ With its incessant erotic praising of the human body (the masculine as well as the feminine), the book

WHY SERVE GOD? - Flagstaff Christian Fellowship

“Why serve God?” I encounter many in the local church who have served God, sometimes for many years, but they feel burned out and they are not involved in serving any longer In some cases, they drop out of church altogether, claiming that they can worship God better by avoiding the church In other cases, they may attend church, but

The Passionate Writings of George Herbert

The Passionate Writings of George Herbert Julie Losch Course: English 231 (Herbert lines 15-16) He basically is praising God by saying, "I will take up my cross and do Your will," something that Jesus, himself, urged his followers to do "die to himself," which indicates that he wants to give up his own selfish will and desires, in
